

Last updated 6-3-20

2020 United States Senate Races

Notes:

- This chart is compiled by Riley Newman, rileynew@gmail.com. A current version is always available at tinyurl.com/senatechart2020.
- “Political Experts” and their most recent projection dates used here are in order: Cook Political Report (5/15) Sabato Crystal Ball (4/30) and InsideElections (formerly Rothenberg Political Report) (4/3)
- A “race rating” is assigned to each state race, based on the above projections. The chart below orders races in order from “tossups” (rating 1) to solid D or R (rating 4). See endnote for details, and a table indicating any changed ratings since previous chart update.
- One column displays Super Pac funds as of 4/30/2020. The first figure is the amount spent in the state in support of the Democratic candidate plus that spent against the Republican candidate, while the second figure is the amount spent for the Republican plus that against the Democrat. These figures are based on data found at Center for Responsive Politics

Endorsements are drawn from the following list, representing the indicated issue focus. Click on organization name here to view its website. Click on a candidate’s endorser (eg “CLW” following CO candidate John Hickenlooper) to see what the endorser says about him/her.

- CLW (Council for a Livable World) – nuclear arms control and foreign policy
- Emily (Emily’s List) – pro-choice Democratic women
- J Street – pro-Israel, pro-peace
- LCV (League of Conservation Voters) – environmental issues, particularly climate change

A candidate’s name, if underlined, is a link to VoteSmart.org which provides ratings and endorsements for the candidate by numerous organizations, organized in categories. From there, other Vote Smart information about the candidate is easily accessed. See notes on Vote Smart following this chart.

State	Race rating	Primary date as of May 6 (new in green)	“Experts” forecast for Senate seat	Candidates, prominent or with >1.0M raised. I =>incumbent	Organization endorsements	Funds raised in $M, per FEC end of March	SuperPac fund transfers >0.1M as of 4-30-2020 Units $M	Notes from John Isaacs, Senior Fellow, Council for a Livable World
AZ	1	Aug 4	toss up lean D toss up	Martha McSally R, I Mark Kelly D	LCV CLW	19.0 31.3	1.3 for D or against R 0.2 for R or against D	Arizona – Martha McSally (R), after losing a close election in 2018 to Sen. Kyrsten Sinema (D) by 50%-48%, was appointed to take the seat of late Senator John McCain (R), and has to run again in 2020. Mark Kelly (D), astronaut and husband of former Rep. Gabrielle Giffords, is her challenger. Kelly is leading in fundraising and the polls.
CO	1	June 30	toss up leans D tilt D	Cory Gardner R, I John Hickenlooper D Michael Johnston D Andrew Romanoff D Dan Baer D	CLW	13.6 9.0 3.6 2.2 1.7	1.1 for D or against R 0.2 for R or against D	Colorado – Sen. Cory Gardner (R) is considered one of the most vulnerable Republicans in the 2020 election. In 2018, Democrats won the governorship in Colorado and picked up one House seat, and Hillary Clinton carried the state in 2016. In August, former Governor John Hickenlooper dropped his candidacy for President and announced he will run for this Senate seat. This is one of the best opportunities for a Democratic pickup.

ME	1	July 14	toss up toss up toss up	Susan Collins R, I Sara Gideon D	CLW Emily LCV Jstreet	13.3 14.9	1.5 for D or against R 1.8 for R or against D	Maine – Sen. Susan Collins (R) has been a highly popular incumbent in the state, but alienated many moderate voters with some votes, particularly to confirm Judge Kavanaugh. In 2018, Democrats picked up the governorship from a retiring Republican and won both House seats in the state. In late June, state House Speaker Sara Gideon’s jumped into the race, and immediately was endorsed by the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee and EMILY’s List. Betsy Sweet (D), who took third place in last year’s primary for governor and Bre Kidman (D) are also running. Gideon has produced strong fundraising numbers and is now in a toss up race.
NC	1	March 3	toss up toss up toss up	Thom Tillis R, I Cal Cunningham D	CLW LCV Jstreet	11.7 7.7	12.7 for D or against R 1.0 for R or against D	North Carolina – Sen. Thom Tillis (R-NC), who alienated President Trump and now is his best friend, is running for re-election. Former Democratic state Sen. Cal Cunningham won the contested Democratic primary and is running even in polls and fundraising.
AL	2	March 3 July 14 runoff	lean R likely R lean R	Doug Jones D, I Tommy Tuberville R Jefferson Sessions R	LCV	11.8 3.3 1.7	0.8 for D or against R 1.1 for R or against D	Alabama – The most vulnerable Democratic incumbent in 2020 is Sen. Doug Jones (D). In 2017, Jones won a stunning upset victory 50%-48% over former state Supreme Court Justice Roy Moore (R) in this usually solid Republican state. Jones is considered underdog. Former Auburn University football coach Tommy Tuberville (R) and former Senator and Attorney General Jeff Sessions are in a July 15 runoff to face Jones.
GA -A	2	June 9	lean R likely R likely R	David Perdue R, I Jonathan Ossoff D Teresa Tomlinson D Sara Riggs Amico D	CLW	12.6 3.4 2.1 1.4	0.9 for D or against R &lt;0.10 for R or against D	Georgia A – The state has been moving towards a purple status; Stacey Abrams (D) lost her 2018 race for governor in a very close contest by only 50%-49%, but declined entreaties to run for Senate against Sen. Davie Purdue (R). Former House candidate Jon Ossoff (D), former Columbus Mayor Teresa Tomlinson (D) and 2018 Lieutenant Governor nominee Sarah Riggs Amico (D) are competing for the Democratic nomination in a June 9 primary and likely an August 11 runoff.
GA-B Special election	2	June 9	likely R likely R likely R	Kelly Loeffler R, I Raphael Warnock D		11.7 1.5	0.0 for D or against R 0.3 for R or against D	Georgia B – Kelly Loeffler (R), a businesswoman and co-owner of the Atlanta Dream in the Women’s National Basketball Association, has been named Sen. Johnny Isakson’s (R) replacement by Georgia Gov. Brian Kemp. Loeffler will hold the seat until the November 2020 special election, creating two elections then. She is challenged by Rep. Doug Collins (R), Matt Lieberman (D), and Rev. Dr. Raphael Warnock (D) in an open primary. If no candidate wins 50% of the vote in November, there will be a runoff vote in January, which could mean Senate control is in doubt long after the November election.
IA	2	June 2	likely R leans R lean R	Joni Ernst R, I Theresa Greenfield D	Emily LCV JStreet CLW	11.0 5.6	5.4 for D or against R 0.3 for R or against D	Iowa – Iowa Sen. Joni Ernst (R) is running for reelection. National Democrats, including the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee and Emily’s List, have rallied around real estate executive and former congressional candidate Theresa Greenfield (D). However, there are other candidates in the June 2 primary, including insurance company owner Eddie Mauro and retired Navy Admiral Michael Franken. Ernst is considered a narrow favorite.

KS	2	Aug 4	lean R likely R lean R	Roger Marshall R Barbara Bollier D  Bob Hamilton R	Emily LCV CLW	2.1 3.5  2.2		Kansas –Incumbent Sen. Pat Roberts (R) will retire after this term, his fourth. The state has not elected a Democratic Senator since 1932, and although a Democrat captured the governorship in 2018, Republicans are favored to hold the seat. Prospects for the Democratic candidate state senator Barbara Bollier, a former Republican, have picked up, as the leading Republican candidate, former Secretary of State Kris Kobach (R), could lose this race as he lost the governor’s race in 2018. Also running are U.S. Representative Roger Marshall (R) and other candidates. The state GOP is engaged in a civil war.
MI	2	Aug 4	lean D leans D lean D	Gary Peters D, I John James R	CLW LCV	15.8 13.1	4.0 for D or against R 2.8 for R or against D	Michigan – Army veteran John James (R), who lost in 2018 to Sen. Debbie Stabenow, is challenging Democratic incumbent Gary Peters. James lost by a fairly close 52%-46% to Stabenow, and raised $12 million for his race. Peters is one of only two Democratic incumbents at all vulnerable.
MT	2	June 2	lean R leans R lean R	Steven Daines R, I Steve Bullock D		8.0 3.4	0.0 for D or against R 0.3 for R or against D	Montana – In March 2020, popular Gov. Steve Bullock (D) made a late entry into the contest. Incumbent Sen. Steve Daines (R) is still favored, but this is likely to be a close contest.
AK	3	Aug 18	solid R likely R solid R	Dan Sullivan R, I Al Gross ind.	JStreet	6.4 3.0		Alaska: Orthopedic surgeon Al Gross, an independent who is seeking the Democratic nomination to face Sen. Dan Sullivan (R) and has unified the Democratic Party behind his campaign. In late April, Sabato’s Crystal Ball upgraded the race from Sure Republican to Likely Republican.
SC	3	June 9	likely R likely R solid R	Lindsey Graham R, I Jaime Harrison D	LCV JStreet CLW	22.5 15.0	<0.1 for D or against R 0.8 for R or against D	South Carolina – Sen. Lindsey Graham (R) has gone from Trump opponent in 2016 to Trump critic to Trump ally. Democrats have rallied around former South Carolina Democratic Party Chair Jaime Harrison, former top aide to Rep. Jim Clyburn (D). The Cook Report has upgraded Harrison’s chances after a terrific fundraising first quarter of 2020.
KY	3	June 23	likely R likely R solid R	Mitch McConnell R, I Amy McGrath D	CLW JStreet	29.9 25.5	3.0 for D or against R 0.2 for R or against D	Kentucky – Majority Leader Mitch McConnell (R) surmounted a tough challenge in 2014, 56%-41%. But he is facing a difficult election because of his close connection to President Trump and his lukewarm ratings in the state. However, the Majority Leader is a strong campaigner who has shown an ability to raise vast amounts of money. Former fighter pilot and House candidate Amy McGrath (D) is running and has done fabulously with her fundraising and is presenting a tough challenge.
MN	3	Aug 11	likely D likely D solid D	Tina Smith D, I  Jason Lewis R	CLW Emily LCV JStreet	7.5  1.3		Minnesota – Sen. Tina Smith (D), appointed to replace Sen. Al Franken, won in 2018 by 53%-42% over former state senator Karen Housley for the last two years of Franken’s term. Smith faces another election this year for a full six-year term. Jason Lewis, who served as U.S. representative for one term before being ousted by Rep. Angie Craig in 2018, is running against Sen. Smith.
NH	3	Sept 8	solid D likely D solid D	Jeanne Shaheen D, I  Bryant Messner R	CLW Jstreet Emily	11.5  3.6	0.2 for D or against R 0.6 for R or against D	New Hampshire – Sen. Jeanne Shaheen (D) has prospered with a strong but moderate record that works well in New Hampshire.

NM	3	June 2	likely D likely D solid D	Ben Lujan D  Mark Rochetti	CLW LCV JStreet	4.8  0.9		New Mexico – Sen. Tom Udall (D) has announced his retirement at the end of this term. While Democrats have dominated elections in recent years, Republicans are still competitive. Rep. Ben Ray Luján (D) is the Democratic candidate and the clear favorite over any of several GOP contenders.
TX	3	March 3 July 14 runoff	likely R likely R likely R	John Cornyn R, I M.J. Hegar D  Royce West D Christina Tzintzun Ramirez D	Emily JStreet	18.9 4.8  1.4 1.2	3.8 for D or against R  0.7 for R or against D	Texas – Republican Senate Majority Whip John Cornyn is the clear favorite to be re-elected. Air Force veteran MJ Hegar (D), who lost a close 51%-48% House race in TX-31 in 2018, and state Sen. Royce West (D) face a July 14 runoff to face Cornyn. Either one will be a major underdog
VA	4	June 23	solid D safe D solid D	Mark Warner D, I	LCV	12.5	<0.1 for D or against R  0.1 for R or against D	Virginia – Sen. Mark Warner (D) had an unexpectedly close race in 2014, but should romp this year.
AR	4	March 3	solid R safe R solid R	Thomas Cotton R, I Joshua Mahony D		8.4 0.4		Arkansas – Sen. Tom Cotton (R) will have no problems being reelected.
DE	4	Sept 15	solid D solid D solid D	Christopher Coons D, I	CLW	4.8		Delaware – Sen. Chris Coons (D) is in great shape.
ID	4	May 19	solid R safe R solid R	James Risch R, I		2.1		Idaho – Sen. James Risch (R) will certainly be reelected.
IL	4	March 17	solid D safe D solid D	Richard Durbin D, I	Jstreet CLW	7.8		Illinois – Sen. Dick Durbin (D) has no opponent.
LA	4	Nov 3	solid R safe R solid R	William Cassidy R, I		8.6		Louisiana – Sen. Cassidy (R) will return in 2021
MA	4	Sept 1	solid D safe D solid D	Ed Markey D, I Joseph Kennedy D Shannon Liss-Riordan D	CLW LCV	8.5 5.9 3.2		Massachusetts – While incumbent Democratic Sen. Ed Markey first appeared to have an easy reelection, U.S. Rep. Joseph P. Kennedy III (D) is challenging the incumbent. Polls show that Kennedy could be a slight favorite.
MS	4	March 10	solid R safe R solid R	Cindy Hyde-Smith R, I		1.9		Mississippi – Democrat Mike Espy, a former Congressman and Secretary of Agriculture, who held Republican Sen. Cindy Hyde-Smith to a 54%-46% win for the last two years of Sen. Thad Cochran’s (R) seat, has filed to run against her again. Hyde-Smith is the overwhelming favorite.
NE	4	May 12	solid R safe R solid R	Benjamin Sasse R, I		5.4		Nebraska – Sen. Ben Sasse (R) will be back in 2021.
NJ	4	July 7	solid D solid D solid D	Cory Booker D, I		10.5	0.9 for D or against R  <0.10 for R or against D	New Jersey – Sen. Cory Booker (D) withdrew from the race for President and will return to the Senate next year.

OK	4	June 30	solid R safe R solid R	James Inhofe R, I		3.8		Oklahoma –Senate Armed Services Committee Chair James Inhofe (R) will be back for another term.
OR	4	May 19	solid D safe D solid D	Jeffrey Merkley D, I	CLW Jstreet LCV	9.2		Oregon –Sen. Jeff Merkley (D) avoided any serious Republican opposition.
RI	4	Sept 8	solid D safe D solid D	John Reed D, I		3.3		Rhode Island –Senate Ranking Armed Services Committee Democrat John Reed will be an easy winner.
SD	4	June 2	solid R safe R solid R	Mike Rounds R, I  Daniel Ahlers D		3.5  0.1		South Dakota –Sen. Mike Rounds (R) will have no problem being reelected.
TN	4	Aug 6	solid R safe R solid R	Bill Hagerty R Manny Sethi R James Mackler D George Flinn R		7.1 3.7 1.6 1.6		Tennessee –Tennessee Republican Sen. Lamar Alexander, who has served since 2003, announced his retirement at the end of this term. His replacement is likely to be a Republican; In 2018, Democrats thought they had a chance to win a Senate seat in this state, but ex-governor Phil Bredesen (D) won only 44% of the vote against then-Rep. Marsha Blackburn (R). Attorney and Iraq War Army veteran James Mackler (D), who ran in 2018 before dropping out when Bredesen entered the race, is running. Former Ambassador to Japan Bill Hagerty is favored to win the Republican nomination and the election.
WV	4	June 9	solid R safe R solid R	Shelley Capito R, I		4.0		West Virginia –Sen. Shelley Capito (R) will be back for a second term.
WY	4	Aug 18	solid R safe R solid R	Cynthia Lummis R		1.3	<0.10 for D or against R 0.1 for R or against D	Wyoming – Sen. Michael Enzi (R-WY) announced his retirement at the end of this term. Former Rep. Cynthia Lummis is running and will win the seat. Rep. Liz Cheney (R), who would have been major opposition, declined run.

Race rating definition: (1) at least one “tossup”, (2) no tossup and no solid, (3) “solid” and “likely” mix, (4) all “solid” or “safe”

RECENT CHANGES IN RACE ASSESSMENTS
State	Assessor	Date 1	Date 2	From	To
Georgia A	Cook	4/29	5/15	Likely R	Lean R
South Carolina	Cook	3/20	4/29	Safe R	Likely R
South Carolina	Sabato	4/2	4/30	Solid R	Likely R
Alaska	Sabato	4/2	4/30	Safe R	Likely R

This document includes links to Vote Smart, a nonpartisan organization that provides facts about current officials and candidates for political office. The links to their website are for informational purposes and do not associate Vote Smart to any above-stated opinions.

VoteSmart.org provides a treasure chest of information about many of the candidates in our chart. Vote Smart sends a “Political Courage Test” to candidates – a questionnaire asking for his/her position on a range of issues. Unfortunately, in recent years candidates are increasingly unwilling to respond to this test. So Vote Smart’s website now presents what it thinks a candidate’s answers would have been, based on Vote Smart’s analysis of the candidate’s past statements and votes. The links in our chart take you directly to the Vote Smart page for each candidate. Far more information is readily accessed from this Vote Smart section, including the candidate’s biography, voting record, copies of speeches and statements, and funding. In addition, Vote Smart provides a huge nicely organized table showing ratings and endorsements of the candidate by a wide range of organizations – an excellent way to explore evaluations of the candidate by organizations that address particular concerns the reader may have.